

Saturday 17 April 2010
Chapter Arts Complex
1.30 pm to 5.30 pm
see map below

NUJ Wales special conference

What future for the media in Wales?

The future for media outlets in Wales is looking more uncertain than it has done for many years.

With local newspapers shutting down for ever, many media workers are looking at alternative forms of ownership to keep titles and programmes going, so there is an urgent need to get together and discuss our future prospects.

So come along to debate the issues at the National Union of Journalists sponsored conference on the future of the media in Wales (see over for agenda).

All media workers are welcome to attend, as are academics, students, other trade union members and political representatives interested in the future of the media in Wales.

ALSO PLAYING

Banner Theatre Company
with their highly acclaimed 30-minute thought-provoking satirical production Embedded With The Bankers
Admission free

Conference agenda

SESSION 1

Is there a crisis in the Welsh media?

Speakers include:

Bob Franklin Cardiff University School of Journalism

Tom O'Malley Aberystwyth University

David Donovan Wales organiser, Bectu

Jeremy Dear general secretary, NUJ

Other invited speakers to be named

SESSION 2

The political response

With speakers from all main political parties in Wales debating their policies for the media in Wales after the general election

SESSION 3

The trade union response

With speakers from all the main media unions in Wales

